Trucks Transit Parks Limited (Port Harcourt, Nigeria)

4 months

At TTP Ltd., I worked with a small team of developers to maintain and add features to Eto, an application that handled all the truck traffic into and out of Nigeria's largest port. The application handled lots of daily traffic, consuming APIs and exposing APIs for consumption by hardware like biometric devices and entrance barriers. It featured dozens of user permissions and user types. It was deployed on AWS using Elastic Beanstalk to allow for the creation of multiple instances during peak periods of activity.
